

TIE CHILLY - Body cooling neck tie

How to get the best out of your Tie Chilly

We recommend washing before use. See washing instructions below.

DIRECTIONS: To hydrate as a Neck Tie. Soak Tie Chilly in clean water for a total of 45 minutes. After round 15 minutes the cooling crystals inside the Tie Chilly will begin to absorb water and feel like gel. There will be less stress on the seams if at this stage you distribute the gel evenly throughout the Tie. Re-immerses the TIE CHILLY again for the remaining 30 minutes (times are approximate). Note: Do not leave the TIE CHILLY in water for extended periods than suggested above. Excessive hydration may put a strain on the seams.

Hold your TIE CHILLY at one end and gently squeeze out excess water. Now place the TIE CHILLY around your neck. Within a short period of time the TIE CHILLY will no longer feel wet but cool and the sensation will continue for days. To maintain the cooling effect when in use, it is important to rotate the TIE CHILLY so the outside edge faces the neck when required.

To hydrate as a Head Band: Soak entire wrap in clean water for 20-30 minutes maximum.

To use as an ice pack: Activate in normal way, then place in freezer for up to 30 minutes before use.

To use as a hot pack: Hydrate as suggested above, then microwave for up to 30 seconds. Test first to make sure the TIE CHILLY is not too hot. Now you have a HOT TIE CHILLY!

Re-hydrate as required. Simply immerse in clean water for 15-20 minutes. The cooling crystals will re-hydrate for many years.

WASHING INSTRUCTIONS: We recommend hand washing with a bio-degradable product that contains no phosphates. Total washing time should be 2-3 minutes. Rinse thoroughly. Water/fabric softener, chlorine, salt and various minerals can effect the crystals hydration, avoid using.

STORAGE: DO NOT store in a plastic bag as mildew can occur. When not in use, hang the TIE CHILLY up for several days and after dehydration occurs the crystals will solidify again. Once dry you can store your TIE CHILLY away ready for its next use.

THE AMAZING

Tie
Chilly™

